The application form can be found here.

What do I need to submit?

You must submit all core materials listed on the form.

For Early Development we assess short documents and draft scripts. We also prefer that you have opened a dialogue with a distributor, broadcaster or online content commissioner.

The creative materials required may vary according to the project type.

FEATURES

Your short document should demonstrate the following:

- the key dramatic beats of your story and how they will play out within your chosen genre
- a clear beginning, middle and end
- identified pivotal story points
- the intended genre, tone and mood of the film

TV AND WEB DRAMA, NARRATIVE COMEDY AND CHILDRENS' TV

We are generally looking for a preliminary pitch document and an indication of intended market.

We generally do not require marketplace attachment up front however we are unlikely to fund more than a mini bible without broadcaster interest.

If you have secured broadcaster development please indicate this in the 'previous funding' or 'other funding for this stage' section of your application form.

DOCUMENTARY AND FACTUAL

Your pitch document should concisely describe:

- your subject matter
- your intended narrative, line of enquiry, or argument
- your intended stylistic approach
- your intended audience
- how you plan to tell your story (observational sequences, archival footage, interviews, recreations, etc)

If your program is reliant on the participation of a particular person or people you will need to have a document verifying that they consent to take part.

INTERACTIVE

Your application materials should provide:

- a description of the story, journey or experience
- any visual designs or early prototyping
- information on intended audience and distribution strategy
- any web metrics or sales figures for previous interactive projects

How will my application be assessed?

Your application will be competitively assessed against the following criteria:

- The strength and distinctiveness of the concept
- The strength of the story and the quality of the submitted materials
- The plans for use of the funding

- The potential of the project to reach its target audience and its viability in terms of likely budget relative to market
  - The track record of the Key Creative(s), including the financial track record and experience of the applicant and any Key Creatives
  - The potential of the project to contribute to a robust screen industry in NSW

If we commission an indigenous assessment, the project will be assessed with reference to Screen Australia's guidelines Pathways & Protocols: a filmmaker's guide to working with Indigenous people, culture and concepts.

If your application is not successful the project may be resubmitted if substantially reworked. A project that is declined for Early Development can be considered for Advanced Development or Market Travel if it has advanced sufficiently.
